Character design

I make their clothes's color looks pretty dull, and to make sure the character's height can reach the barrels, I created a exagerrated prosthesis for the kid character.

Sketch & Testing

In this page, it shows my sketches of the elements and the color test. Based on the references, I drew the elements that may appear in my final works such as gas masks and ice cubes. I found some photos in my research and drew them, I took the color in those drawings and develop to the color test.
