playing hide and seek but ending is so far for Few talking Since i moved away from here it s not easy for me to see you But I m going to click every glitch out of the door

At summer ending back to classes in the town and your laugh is still kinda new and clear seems to be louder when I am at home alone if I tell you where I m in and will you catch me in the kitchen board

sorry for left you by saying nothing I feel Sorry for the quarrel but you should explain now i sitting here, and waiting you to say something like hey, Don t you remember these beautiful things?

Last vacation you met me green face in may and secret language
!Oh that s the point i begging you believe My friends are all curious about it Nobody knows I fall in love with a real ghost!
Who looks similar with me

! oh thats the point i begging you believe she is good and never run about Because something is wrong, happened in this small town

当时作为尝试写的歌词和诗

spite my face like scrawling on pieces of paper, cut your nose for collecting ink for graffiti draw. but what are we fight for? it s just not going like my thought i see right through you, you see right through me. i think you haunting me with a cursed vow swindles like lover while strolls like child you said it s too puny to win in combat, only raise a blaze of fire , between me and you how do you feel living in there strike you like you are real thing, shatter me like i have hard bones. water rushes in, light falls down , can you feel the same thing as i do?
